LIQUOR MEASURES GET SOLID VOTING IN LEGISLATURE

FIVE ARE RECOMMENDED FOR DEATH AFTER HEARINGS.

BLAINE ASSAILED

Dry League Attorney Declares Governor Now Attacks Law He Once Urged.

Madison — Liquor legislation fared badly at the hands of the state affairs committee of the senate Thursday night, after a field day for consideration of 11 bills, all referring to the prohibition question. Out of it all will come a committee bill calling for a referendum on the direct issue of prohibition at the April 1924 election. Senator W. A. Tullis, chairman of the committee, announced.

Two measures providing for repeal of the Severe prohibition enforcement statute, one by Senator Getteman, the other by Senator Polakowski, both of Milwaukee, were recommended for indefinite postponement, with only Senator Getteman dissenting.

The Czerwinski bill repealing the search and seizure section of the Severe law was recommended for killing by a 6 to 1 vote, as was the Burke resolution, requesting congress to submit to the people a constitutional amendment repealing the prohibition amendment. Two bills by Senator Teasdale, intended to (Continued on Page 3.)

DAHL BACKS WATER AFTER CONFERENCE

Madison — After a long conference with Robert M. La Follette, Jr., chairman of the republican state central committee, Speaker John L. Dahl Friday said he would not urge the legislature to consider his tax bill until the governor's measure had been disposed of.

He declared that, should the Blaine bill be killed in the senate, he would want to be assured that the governor would sign his bill before recalling it from committee. Rates in the bill are now completely revised.

BUILDING OF HOMES, TOPIC FOR C. C. MEET

CO-OP SOCIETY AGENT NABBED

Madison — On request of the attorney general's office, C. H. Brooks of West Allis was arrested here charged with being involved in a scheme of the Cooperative Society of America to float its securities in Wisconsin without a permit from the railroad commission. It is said that the operation of Brooks in Milwaukee county is only the beginning of a comprehensive scheme to float the paper of this organization upon investors of Racine, Kenosha, Oshkosh, Green Bay, Neenah, Sheboygan, Marinette and Janesville, where debentures have been sold in the past.

Blaire Stand for Booz Is Assailed by A. E. Matheson

Madison — Assemblyman A. E. Matheson, Janesville leader of the legislature, assailed a statement Friday in which said Governor Blaine is true on mighty dangerous ground in attempting to justify the position taken in his special message on prohibition.

"For a governor publicly declaring himself as a legislator to enforce the law of the land, Governor Blaine is in a most dangerous situation," Mr. Matheson said. "He has practically told the breaker that his offense will be pardoned if he violates the prohibition law."

Yet leaders here were very much in accord with the governor and expressed plans at his direct stand against prohibition, both federal and state.

Governor Blaine was outspokenly stated, they say, when he declared that prohibition

Vicar Must Die; Bishop to Prison

Madison — The 10th sentence recently imposed on Archbishop Zepherino, head of the Roman Catholic church in Russia, commuted Friday to 10 years imprisonment under strict isolation. The appeal of Vicar General Chkavich for clemency was denied.

The central executive committee, which met to consider requests for mitigation of the sentences, said in its decision that the archbishop was deserving of the 10 years in the Moscow court, that commutation was ordered because of the element of the Catholic church in Russia might exploit the sentence as being directed against priests and their religion.

The committee also regarded that the evidence showed the archbishop was innocent of the direct treasonable action with an enemy of the state. The decision was signed by President Kalinin and Secretary Sapronov.

Archbishop Zepherin and Monsignor Butchavich, together with 16 Catholic priests, were found guilty by the Moscow court of conspiring with the soviet government. The sentence of death was imposed on the archbishop and the vicar general, but a stay of execution was ordered by the other prisoners who were sentenced to prison terms.

FIRE DESTROYS PULLMAN SHOP

Chicago — The Pullman shop of the Pullman company, manufacturers of railroad coaches, virtually destroyed by fire early Friday at an estimated loss of between $200,000 and $300,000. Men were unable to extinguish the blaze, but were successful in directing the flames away from the Pullman building and nearby buildings.

London — Premier Bonine is dying, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Stockholm quoting the Stockholm correspondent of the Svenska Dagbladet, telegraphing that the Soviet leader in Helsinki has received a confidential message from Moscow to that effect. The report is being spread, according to the dispatch.

The Moscow official bulletin of March 29 said Premier Lenin's condition was unchanged, except for a slight improvement.

DISCORD REPORT UPSETS HARDING'S VACATION PARTY

STATEMENT WITHHELD ON CANDIDACY STORY.

PRESIDENT SILENT

Daughter's Announcement Was Only Personal Opinion, Not Official Word.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
Copyright, 1923, by Janesville Daily Gazette.

St. Augustine, Fla. — The entire presidential party was visibly upset today by the publication of a story that President Harding in effect disapproved of the statement made by his close friend and political mentor, Attorney General Daugherty, announcing that the president would be a candidate for re-election in 1924.

The story was published in the New York Times and the arrival of the attorney general here and members of the party began asking each other what was its inspiration, for they realized that it might be looked upon as a reflection on his judgment.

Daugherty is a sick man and the relationship between him and the president is so close that even if Mr. Harding were to feel that the issuance of the statement was a mistake he would be the last man in the world to let that fact get publicly.

President Disinterested.
The president is said to have been distressed by the impression of disagreement between him and Mr. Daugherty which some published reports gave and it would not be surprising if in some way without comment (Continued on Page 11.)

TWO HIGHWAY TAX BILLS INTRODUCED INTO LEGISLATURE

Madison — Two new highway tax bills, both comprehensive in their scope, and both calling for three classes of taxes on automobile owners, were brought before the legislature Friday. The league of Wisconsin Municipalities and the Wisconsin County Boards association is back of one of the measures, and Assemblyman Robert Caldwell, Lodi, together with a number of other lower house members is sponsoring the second of them.

The county board bill, representing a compromise between various elements in the highway program, provides for a moderate graduated license fee based upon weight, varying from $10 to $24, with a highway privilege tax of two per cent in place of the present personal property tax, and a two cent gasoline tax. This bill would raise $10,000,000.

COMINGS HITS GASOLINE TAX

Madison — Lieut. Gov. Comings is strongly opposed to the highway committee bill, which would assess a two cent tax on gasoline sales.

He so expressed himself in unmistakable terms before the committee Thursday during a hearing on the bill.

"The time has arrived when we must call a halt and draw the line regarding taxation," he declared. "The people have stood all they are going to. We have plucked and plucked until all good and just taxation have yielded virtually all their plumage."

"We pray on Sundays that the Lord will lead us not into temptation. Yet on six days in the week we are tempted to be crooks as a result of excessive taxation."

ONE DEAD IN IOWA BLAZE

Belmond, Ia. — William Grandup, 55, is dead; Emil Grandup, a brother, lies at the point of death, and six buildings are in ruins as the result of a fire which swept the business section of this town early Friday.

New York — Each week $229,742 accrues to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in dividends from stock owned by him in nine Standard Oil companies, it is revealed by a calculation made by Dow, Jones and company, from testimony given in the senate's recent investigation of the oil industry. The elder Rockefeller, founder of the Standard Oil group, is not the owner of one piece of the stock of any of the companies, the survey shows.

6 Killed as Fast Train Hits Auto

Columbus, O. — Six persons are known to have been killed, and many were injured, some seriously when a fast Big Four Pullman train, en route from Boston to Cincinnati, struck an automobile at a grade crossing at the north city limits Friday morning.

The train, one of the fastest operated by the Big Four Railroad between Boston and Cincinnati, was en route from Cleveland to Columbus. The engineer was late and was racing his train at 65 or 70 miles an hour.

Every available ambulance in the city was ordered to the scene. The engine left the tracks and tipped over in the ditch, and Pullman sleepers piling on top of it. All the cars in the train, with the exception of a dining car, left the track.

The known dead are:

Robert Hemming, Warren, O., publisher of the Warren News; J. W. Kice, Bremen of Cleveland; Mrs. S. Hemming of Columbus, wife of an attorney, who was driving the automobile that was struck.

Robert Hemming, aged five, her son.

ONE FIREMAN DEAD, 15 HURT AT BIG BLAZE

New York — One fireman was killed and 15 injured Friday while fighting a blaze that destroyed two factories and wrecked the floors of an adjoining tenement and business house.

An explosion of escaping gas blew a tottering brick wall into the streets and buried a score of firemen. Julius V. Shuman was instantly killed and others were badly hurt by the falling bricks. One fireman was burned while rescuing occupants of the blazing house.

A hospital ambulance was smothered by falling bricks and a surgeon was slightly injured. When the fire was checked, six buildings and the two upper floors of a tenement which stood on the corner of the street were destroyed. Estimates of the loss ranged from $500,000 upward.

Booze Fleet Queen Sinks in Big Storm

Highlands, N. J. — The queen of the "Highland Run" running fleet was lost during the heavy northwest gale Wednesday and another member of the fleet Friday was reported missing.

The queen ship, the largest and fastest pulling out from Highlands to the rum armada off shore, was lost while making her second trip to the marine liquor mart.

When she started for shore with 100 cases of liquor, having an estimated retail value of $7,750, she encountered a 48-mile gale which forced her to return to the harbor, a British steamer which once served as a yacht for Robert Goetz, from which she had purchased her cargo.

The runner manager to come alongside the lost ship and her water-gauged crew was taken off. The boat, valued at $3,000, foundered with her cargo.

The later took care of the crew until the gale subsided, they were landed by a run-rubber from New York.

FOSTER PLANNED RADICAL UNION

Admits Organizing Activities Under Cross Examination at Trial.

St. Joseph, Mich. — William Z. Foster, charged with criminal syndicalism, last summer planned a radical union of copper miners at Butte and in the Minnesota and Michigan mines, Foster admitted on cross examination Friday.

He acknowledged authorship of a letter to William F. Dunne, a co-defendant, in which he proposed to Dunne that they form such a union. The miners, he wrote, were not satisfied with the I. W. O. or the "One Big Union" and something was desired. Dunne formerly published a radical paper at Butte.

Net Mine Leader.
Foster wrote that he had met a miners' leader to Spokane, named E. A. Grimes of Butte, Idaho, who told him "I intend to run out of the others" in the Idaho mining district.

O. L. Smith, assistant attorney general of Michigan, questioned Foster about the strength of the communist party, which established the dictatorship of the proletariat. Foster admitted Russia has a population of 140,000,000 and that the party in control had 12,000 members in 1917.

"Control by Workers."
"That's what you mean, is it," Mr. Smith asked, "that when 170,000,000 in round numbers control 140,000,000, the mass of the workers controls Russia?"

"I mean that was the actual number of men and women actually members of the communist party," Foster answered. "Krasin, the charge of foreign trade and Karl Tadek, a Russian communist editor."

RESCUE PARTY SAVED IN TURN BY LAKE TUG

Cleveland, O. — Six coast guards and a physician battled through terrific seas to the waterworks crib, five miles out in Lake Erie, and removed Harry Holworth, crib tender, ill with pneumonia, only to be themselves rescued by a tug when a balky motor placed their little power boat at the mercy of the waves.

RAINCOAT FACTORY STOCK DESTROYED IN $75,000 BLAZE

BOWER BUSINESS BLOCK THREATENED WITH ANNIHILATION.

FAMILIES OUSTED

Restaurant, Plumbing and Shoe Shops Also Badly Damaged; Loss Heavy.

Whitewater. — Fire, discovered at 4:45 a. m. Friday, did damage which will run over the $75,000 mark and threatened the entire Bower business block and adjoining buildings before it was brought under control by firemen in a four hour fight.

As a result, 40 employees of the MacKenzie Rubber company, rubber manufacturers in whose plant the fire is believed to have originated, have been thrown out of work, several families are homeless, and the stores are out of business temporarily on account of water damage.

Restaurant Is Wrecked.

The Little Gem restaurant, which occupies two stores in the Bower block, was partially wrecked when the rubber factory steam press, broke through the floors and crashed to the first floor. The timbers from the roof fell through the second floor into the restaurant.

The stores badly damaged by water are Scholte grocery, Fox west market, John Levanetz plumbing shop and the Whitewater shoe hospital. The entire shoe stock of A. A. Morgan, next to the Bower block, was moved to the Rydman shoe repairer's store, where there was danger of the fire spreading to adjoining buildings.

Stock Is Destroyed.

The raincoat factory stock in destroyed and insurance on the goods expired 15 days ago and was not renewed, John E. Bronstein, the insurance agent of the Whitewater plant being ill. The loss to the concern is estimated at between $12,000 and $15,000. Three thousand raincoats and 500 mohair coats were destroyed, together with a large shipment of material which came in from Chicago.

The roof over the Henry Block, which is owned by Mrs. Henry Boyer Kiser, was destroyed. Harold Brown, his wife and six weeks old child who, together with J. McGinn, reside in the flats above the restaurant, were forced to abandon their home. L. F. McGinn and L. W. Rieder are the proprietors of the restaurant, which suffered more damage than any other business place on the first floor.

Stock Now Quarters.

The raincoat factory will seek new quarters. On moving into the building three years ago, machinery was installed and recently new machinery was purchased. The stock of raincoats could be made in Whitewater, the business having necessitated a larger output.

It was the largest fire in Whitewater in years, and leveled the same block more than two decades ago.

12 Leads of Nose.

From his apartment nearby, Allan Hiltch discovered the fire breaking through the roof of the block about 4:45 a. m. and gave the alarm. The fire whistle awakened all Whitewater and within an hour there was a large crowd of spectators. The volunteer fire force of 12 leads of horse, handicapped by a low pressure, so that water was barely forced to the top of the building. Assistant Chief Ferdinand Krapplin was in charge of the fire. The fire was brought under control about 8:30.

Third Floor Vacant.

Loss on the Bower block alone was estimated by Mr. Kiser at $50,000, which he believed to be fully covered by insurance. Mr. Kiser is an insurance agent. One half of the Gem restaurant is owned by Mr. Kiser, the other half is covered by insurance. It is but two stories.

The town of Whitewater had rooms on the second floor of the Bower block. The third floor of the building, which had a front wall of brick and a rear wall of wood, was unoccupied. The third floor will be eliminated in reconstructing the building. Mr. Kiser told the Gazette, Friday.

Stock, Machinery Ruined.

Loss to the MacKenzie company is variously estimated at between $25,000 and $50,000. The big stock of rubber and the machinery is destroyed, or beyond salvage.

Storekeepers, after the fire, started work to reclaim their stocks, cleared out the water and began a rumormongering for a resumption of business as soon as possible.

WITH THE FARMERS

Farm Bureau Official Information

SCIENCE HELPFUL TO ALL FARMERS

Annual Report on Experimental Work Made By Extension Department.

The part played by science in promoting and making more profitable the agricultural and livestock industries is stressed in the annual report of the agricultural experiment station of the University of Wisconsin.

What scientific methods have accomplished in the breeding of better fowls and livestock and growing of larger and better crops is treated by some detail in the report. Emphasis is laid upon the development of "the old system of grain farming with its loss of soil fertility and unsatisfactory returns to the producer" to the more recent system which markets crops through the medium of animals, thereby conserving the fertility of the soil and providing a better remuneration for the farmer.

Develop Livestock
 "We in Wisconsin have learned that livestock constitutes the mainstay of our agriculture. By marketing the products of our soil through the medium of our animal industry, this state has earned the highest period of hard times in a manner which is second to none; and the livestock phase of our farming has become the ideal of many states less fortunate than ours."

In the pursuit of this industry it has been well established that not only is good stock required, but it is the utmost importance that the animal be well nurtured. In the conversion of field crops into animal products, feeding methods are of prime importance, and in this field the experiment station plays an exceedingly important role.

Modern methods of long passed the mere feeding trials of earlier days when simply comparing one feed with another. More and more it is realized that the work of the chemist and the physiologist must precede the labor of the practical feeder. The new discoveries in nutrition, many of which have come directly from the work of this experiment station, have given an entirely new concept to the whole field of animal feeding.

Poultry is rapidly becoming an important and powerful adjunct to the dairy cow. In the decade between the last and the foregoing census the value of poultry products in this state has increased from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000. The poultry output was over ten and three-quarter million dollars.

In the last decade Wisconsin has passed both Michigan and New York in total poultry on farms. Wisconsin registered nearly eleven and one-half million fowls. In the period of stress through which agriculture is passing, no phase of farming has been more stable nor maintained better prices on the whole than the products of the dairy and the poultry yard. In pulling out of the present economic system in agriculture, the state of Wisconsin can do no better than combine the enviable lead which she already has in dairying with steady advance of other lines of the livestock industry in a highly diversified system of general farming.

Janesville had a smaller amount of delinquent real estate taxes this year than last. City Treasurer W. J. Lemnartz, announced in connection with the filing of his report with County Treasurer A. M. Church, Thursday.

While the real estate delinquency in the city last year amounted to $26,565.65, in the report just completed only $23,741.9 is listed as unpaid. This is a decrease of more than $3,000, which was unexpected.

The personal property tax delinquency will run considerably more this year than last because the two national banks are not paying and no taxes have been paid by the Bank of Southern Wisconsin. As a result this delinquent figure is around $26,000 where last time it was only $8,000.

Dr. Osburn Gives Teaching Advice

By HERNICE BRUGHAM

Evansville High School

Dr. W. J. Osburn, state director of tests and measurements, gave an interesting and educational talk to the students at the county training school Wednesday, on the necessity for preparation before starting to teach.

Dr. Osburn explained that the first day of school, for a beginning teacher especially, is a day that decides her success or failure for the whole year. His plan is to have material ready and on hand for the first day. All this must be kept together in some certain place which he called the teacher's "Educational Hope Chest."

Another important factor to be considered is the age and ability of the child. The material should be suitable to the age and the development of the child. For nothing has a more repelling effect on a child in an eighth grade than to be given work suitable only for the sixth grade.

Slow reading is one of the greatest stumbling blocks of the school today. Dr. Osburn stated, explaining that the cause for a large number of failures in college and university today is that the student cannot read fast enough to cover all the work assigned. As a result they must fail in their work.

Slow reading is one of the most common causes for slow reading. The best method to overcome this difficulty is the use of perception cards. The cards may give words, phrases, or sentences, which when flashed quickly before the child will develop the ability to get the images without saying the words. These cards are useful not only in the reading work but also in civics, geography, and nominate numbers and in other studies.

Every teacher should have a good deal of material at hand and should be constantly adding to her stock of the same.

VARIETY IS WIDE FOR EASTER MEAL

Housewives Have Plenty to Select from for Festival Dinner.

Easter is another of those occasions when the housewife tries to outdo herself in the matter of the noon dinner, and commodities seen in grocery stores this week being of such a wide variety, will help her choice of especially fruits and vegetables. Many of the new spring vegetables are seen that can be made into tasty dishes for the occasion. The variety is greater than it has been so far this year, with many of the summer fruits and vegetables now flooding in.

For instance, if cost does not matter when a good dinner is being considered, there are strawberries for 50 cents a quart and higher, good peaches for 25 cents a bushel, as a dessert. Strawberry short-cake this time of the year is indeed a surprise and will put the finishing touch on an excellent dinner. Pineapples could be used in a variety of ways, and could be used in almost any course. The fresh ones now bring 25 and 30 cents each, and are seen in practically every grocery store window in town. Peas at 25, 30 and 35 cents a pound are rather a luxury, but for Easter maybe expense could be forgotten. Creamed, they would certainly taste spring-like. For side dishes, if one doesn't care for peas, there are asparagus, or turnips for 25 and 30 cents per bunch, said to be of excellent quality. Spinach is also in the market now at 15 cents per pound, a pound being a good deal for the money.

Lettuce Is Low
 For salad, there is a great variety of everything. As a requisite, of course, is the lettuce, leaf bringing 35 and 40 cents per pound, while good heads of lettuce are obtainable for 25 and 30 cents a head. Lettuce is the lowest in many seasons. Then there are good hot-house tomatoes for 25 cents a pound; celery, all the way from 15 to 30 cents per stalk; green peppers and carrots, 7-12 cents; onions and radishes, 10 cents. If fruit is desired, the usual varieties of oranges, lemons, bananas and grapefruit are seen at the same prices in evidence here. Apples too are the same in price.

Caiflower is popular this spring. Local dealers say, for its quality is excellent. Prices range from 15 to 20 cents per head. Cranberries are almost gone, as the height is at Christmas. The usual dry vegetables—onions, rutabagas, potatoes, sweet potatoes, carrots, beets and other things, bring the same prices, but are losing their popularity in being replaced by fresher articles.

Sugar Is Unchanged
 No change is seen in Janesville in the sugar market, and prices are the same. There seems to be plenty of the commodity and communities of this size never suffer greatly from artificial agitation, as is now evident in sugar circles. The government investigation into the alleged corner on sugar has resulted in making the prices nationally stop going higher, and frequently in lowering them slightly.

Highest and lowest prices on butter this week approximate 62 and 65 cents, while fresh eggs cost from 25 to 30 cents and higher per dozen.

CHEVROLET THEFT REPORT PROVES FALSE

One of the new Chevrolet cars used in the parade here Wednesday was thought stolen in the afternoon and was so reported to the police. It. N. Anson of the Milwaukee Chevrolet agency, 417 Wells street, reported he paraded a touring car near the Monterey bridge about noon and that it was gone an hour later. Now, a Quick Quaker Oats

Cooks in 3 to 5 minutes
 The quickest cooking oats in the world.

Now your grocer has Quaker Oats in two styles. One the kind you have always known—the other is Quick Quaker.

Quick Quaker cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes. And it cooks to perfection. So it is almost like a ready-cooked dish.

No other oat flakes on the market cook anywhere near so quickly. The two styles are identical in quality and flavor. Both are flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, flaky oats. A bushel of choice oats yields but ten pounds of these delicious flakes.

But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Ask for Quick Quaker if you want the style of your own choice. Both. But always get Quaker Oats for their delightful flavor.

ROUSING SAFETY SESSION IS HELD

"Safety First" Move Is Promoted in Interesting Rally.

One of the most instructive and interesting "Safety First" meetings held here in months took place in a room at the St. Paul passenger depot, Thursday night, attended by engineers, firemen, machinists, boiler-makers, conductors, brakemen, switchmen, section-men, road masters, pump repair men and others employed by the St. Paul road, nearly all of whom gave short talks. The territory represented covered as far as Madison, as alternate meetings are held here and there.

Among those present were Mayor T. Z. Welsh and Ald. Leroy D. Horn, both of whom spoke. Among the matters discussed was that of the street light just north of the railroad tracks a few feet from the south side of the Monterey bridge. It was said that motorist driving down Monterey's hill can't see the street light above any train on the road clear. The matter was taken up by the council and passed the light will be placed on the outside of the tracks. William Cobb, for many years in which accidents have been avoided, said that years ago, when meetings were held, there were 30,000 employees of road and 430 were killed in accidents each year. In 1922 there were 70 employees and but 149 deaths. Roger G. W. Allen read a paper which will be published by the St. Paul passenger magazine. The next meeting will be held in Madison, and will be already started for the next in this city, when it is hoped to test the public in attending.

The Madison Revolution.

More than a mere party schism seems to be disturbing the state capital. The revolt, started early in the session against the governor, has grown more pronounced. It has lost its guerrilla character and is now in the open. In the beginning Mr. Rosa, our distinguished neighbor, head of the state tax commission, evolved a fearful and wonderful tax bill to meet pressing demands for revenue by new expenditures proposed in the plan of reforming the state generally. Mr. Dahl introduced the bill while over in the senate Mr. Severson, who disagreed with Mr. Rosa and Mr. Dahl, introduced another bill. Then came the storm of disapproval from the whole state. It was plain that neither bill was for revenue only but aimed at industry and was for class appeal. Then the governor who is sitting on an uneasy, uncomfortable saddle, knowing that the managers of the majority in the legislature were taking orders from some one else, threw a monkey wrench into the machinery and said he would have a tax bill of his own which would settle all the problems. He sent a tax message. The result has been to divide the progressive-socialist majority into three camps. It took no time at all to start the fires of revolt and only the most diplomatic treatment will bring the warring elements together. No one with any desire to help Wisconsin, wants them brought together. The safety of the state and its industries depends largely on letting the fight go on. It would be something worth while to the state if no tax bill could be agreed upon at all. That is too good to be true. We would have to go on as we have been going which is far more to be desired than that we get either the governor's bill with its arithmetical puzzle, with all its complications or the frankly class legislation of Mr. Rosa. The governor wants a one-man tax commission. He will have support in this but not enough perhaps to oust Mr. Rosa. There are not a half dozen commissions in the state that cannot be very decently reduced to one person each. The position of the Gazette is firmly established in opposition to the commission. We have wandered off and away from the plans of the fathers in making this government, by adding innumerable boards and commissions which defeat the very basic principles of representative government. The governor ought to have support in this attempt to reduce the responsibility to one head and to cut a sum from salaries and expenses of no mean amount. If the dog fight now on at Madison there is a ray of hope that we may get something worth while after all.

Will all these anti mask bills stop the masked balls along with the Ku Klux?

A Change on the Front Line.

"Sweet are the uses of adversity," remarks Mr. Shakespeare in one of his immortal plays. Strange still are the turning wheels of the mind. Senator La Follette precipitated the most intense discussion of the constitution, the rights of the courts under it, the relation of congress to the courts and other questions when he declared that the Supreme court had no right to declare a law unconstitutional and the time had come for congress to be able to pass any law and make it a final and forever part of the statutes. But something has changed the senator's mind. That the supreme court should declare some laws unconstitutional and others should be left as they are passed, seems to be the senator's position now. In a general message to the legislature of Wisconsin he declares that the military law under which the state guard was organized is unconstitutional. If, however, the supreme court has no right to declare any law unconstitutional and congress is the final arbiter of all law, how can a law be unconstitutional? That is what we rise to ask. The senator is very vehement about it—the law is simply unconstitutional and if the supreme court does not say so, upholding the senator, then the supreme court should naturally be abolished. If it does it perhaps may be permitted to remain for a time. The military law stands in the way of the abolition of the national guard of Wisconsin. The guard is a frightful example of militaristic rule to Senator La Follette, William Bross Lloyd, Foster on trial for plotting with Russian soviet against the government, Bill Hayward and others of the same kidney.

Testimony in the trial of Foster in Michigan under the Michigan syndicalist law, points plainly to the workers party of which Foster was a leader, as a creature of, and supported by, the Rus-

To Reduce Kinds of Paper Money

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington.—The idea of simplifying and standardizing articles of general use has reached money and a school of advocates of one kind of paper currency for the United States is gaining recruits. At present there are seven different kinds of paper currency issued by the United States government and of most of the seven kinds there are eleven denominations. In the aggregate there are 60 different notes.

The main objections to such a diversity are, first, the manufacture, storage and handling of so many different kinds costs two or three million dollars a year more than a single kind of currency would cost; and, second, to have so many varieties of money outstanding encourages counterfeiting. When there are 60 different money designs, no one but a bank teller or other expert in handling money can be sure to detect a counterfeit at a glance. No ordinary person becomes sufficiently familiar with all the varieties.

First, there is the United States note. This is issued in 10 denominations. The general design of United States notes is the same but each of the separate denominations is distinctive. Then there are the treasury notes of 1890. This is a limited series and no new ones are being issued, but there are $1,450,000 of these old notes in eight denominations still outstanding.

The most numerous group is that composed of the federal reserve notes. As a matter of fact there could properly be added 12 additional kinds to the total of varieties of notes used in the United States because each of the twelve federal reserve banks issues its own notes and while the design is in general the same, each bank has its own name upon its notes. There are also denominations of federal reserve notes totaling $2,032,728,815 outstanding. The fourth general kind of note is made up of federal reserve bank notes. Federal reserve notes are obligations of the United States; federal reserve bank notes are issued under a different section of the law and are obligations of the federal reserve banks. There are six denominations of these notes outstanding, totalling $38,348,000.

A fifth and very intricate class is composed of national bank notes. These are issued in ten separate denominations and there is even more variety in their designs than in notes of the federal reserve banks. Each of the 7500 national banks has its own name in ornamental lettering on its notes and each note is signed by the president and cashier of the issuing bank. There are $768,000,000 in these notes outstanding.

Eight denominations of gold certificates make up the next general class of money, totalling in value $1,136,000,000. The seventh kind of money is composed of silver certificates and there are nine denominations of these. The total outstanding is $377,000,000.

The proposal which now is receiving some consideration at the treasury is to amend the law so as to abolish all these separate classes and issue one standard type of paper money, the United States note. The total paper currency now outstanding is approximately $5,302,000,000. Instead of being divided up into seven kinds or a total of 60 kinds and denominations, there would be one kind of money divided into 11 denominations. This would mean that, instead of 60 separate designs, the people would have to familiarize themselves with only eleven designs and it would make counterfeiting very difficult, especially as there would be only six designs in general circulation. There would be the $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, and $50 notes. As a matter of fact, Frank White, treasurer of the United States, says the people do not use the $50 denomination any more than the $100 denomination, but notes over this figure are not in general circulation being used only in banks where the handlers are naturally prepared to detect spurious money.

As the law now stands, there is different security for different kinds of money. This would have to be changed. The proposal is to put all the security into one general pool and have all the money equally secured. At present a silver certificate is secured by silver dollars held in the treasury. Any holder of a silver certificate may obtain a silver dollar in exchange for it when he desires. The same is true of the gold certificate. Federal reserve notes have security consisting of a fluctuating amount of gold and the remainder made up of commercial paper, that is, promissory notes, acceptances and such security, put up as collateral for loans at federal reserve banks, and representing goods having a tangible and liquid value. At present there is nearly 100 percent gold security for federal reserve notes because the volume of borrowing is light. Under the new proposal, gold security may not drop below 40 percent.

Although the seven different kinds of money have different kinds of security, there is a general policy of the government to make all money literally as good as gold. It is the policy to make every kind of paper currency as good as any other kind and to this end there is a law authorizing the treasury to provide itself with gold bullion, when occasion arises, to maintain the parity of all money with gold.

This being the case, the advocates of a single type of money favor the removal of the differences in the types of money, casting all the security into one central pool and giving all money the same claim upon the security. Anyone wanting gold for his paper currency could have it. The security would be composed of both gold and silver and the paper currency would be readily exchangeable for either.

Undoubtedly such a plan would be opposed on the ground that it is a sort of bi-metalism and would tend to cheapen the value of gold. This is not the aspect of the situation in which the reform has been considered in the offices of the treasurer of the United States. The simplification of handling and the safeguard against counterfeiting—what might be called physical and mechanical rather than fiscal and monetary considerations—argue the elements of particular interest to the treasury.

Under the present system when notes come in for redemption, each separate kind must be sorted out and accounted for separately to keep the records straight. Hundreds of persons are employed all the year round just to do this work and this operation is multiplied by the counting and sorting in all the banks throughout the country. It will be seen that to have just one kind of money would contract this work to a minimum. In the manufacture, many plates have to be engraved at great expense and stocks of the various kinds of paper have to be kept on hand. For instance, the bureau of engraving and printing must maintain a stock for each of the 12 federal reserve banks ready for delivery on requisition. This takes up a great deal of storage space.

Foreign countries have no such variety as the United States.

It is scarcely likely that such a change will be made any time soon, as reforms in money are difficult to bring about.

It is hard though to understand why the soviet should pick such men as Foster and Hayward to serve it.

It looks as though Saunders, the Diggly Wiggly man was getting ready to oppose Henry Ford and our own Robert for president. He has cussed Wall Street vigorously.

It may not have occurred to anyone that the only three places where a person loses the identity of his name and is called by number instead, are the penitentiary, great industrial institutions and the state university.

Just so long as March does not stay over into April we will be satisfied.

THE PRECIOUS THINGS

I have kept coins of silver and gold,
And bundles of bills of all denominations;
And there is a patch of land I hold,
Proudly I call it mine.

Here are the books I have fingered o'er,
What if one goes astray?
But it cannot pass through my guarded door
Save that I give it away.

Time was I dreamed that my soul's content
Must lie in the things I own,
But little I know of "precious" meant
When I fancied it brick and stone.

And little I know that dearly far
Than all of life's glittering heap,
It's silver and gold and its jewels are
The treasures we cannot keep.

The joys I have had for a little while,
Would they were mine today!
The sound of her voice and the light of her smile,
Given and taken away.

And this I have learned by the silent grave,
And the tears I had to weep,
That the precious joys are not those we save,
But the ones we cannot keep.

THE SHAKESPEAREAN EPIDEMIC

Dozens of Julietts, strung from New York to California, fat Julietts, thin Julietts, fair Julietts, dark Julietts, are sobbing for their Romeo, hanging over balconies as limp as a napoleon on a clothes line.

Great excitement among younger set of theatergoers. There's something new going on.

Richards the Third are looking all around for horses. They can't find a horse in town and they go out and get somebody's goat.

"Why don't the poor old bloke take a taxi-cab?" asks one of the Younger Set in an audible whisper.

"Oh, inhale that," replies his well-bred sweetheart. "Kings don't ride in limo-wheeled boxes."

Reginald de Hamand playing "Macbeth" steps to the footlights of the cory house at Oaklousa, Iowa, and bawls: "Lay on Macduff!—and damned be he that first cries: 'Hold, Enough!'"

"Why, the man is actually swearing," shudders a sweet young bride in the audience to her husband. "How daring these new playwrights are; aren't they, dear?"

They are even ragging Shakespeare in some of the jazz cafes. One song-and-dance team is immortal bawling as follows:

"He's a whiz,
He's a whiz,
It's an ancient Roman geow.
He's a whiz,
In a play
Caesar, etc.,
"Caesar, etc."

Othello with towering brows and pillows tucked under their arms for the supporting of countless Desdemonas are stalking through the back-entrances. Waiters with pillows stuffed under their belts to resemble avoidupnea are making people of the air. Most jealous by quaffing icy-hot beer from large jugs—and getting uproariously lifted.

Twenty-seven Ophelias are going dippy on as many road stops every night and crowning themselves by leaping into canvas lagoons.

New vaudeville team has taken the name "Remind and Rattle."

Are the shades of old William looking on from any vantage point in Valhalla, he probably is murmuring to himself:

"Royalties, Royalties. Wherefore art thou, Royalties?"

Any anarchist can be cured by the application of a bunk roll.

Who's Who Today

EDWIN D. PARKER.

Claiming approximately more than a billion dollars—representing the amounts said to be due the Government and American citizens from German sources as a result of damages during the world war—are now being settled in Washington by the Mixed Claims Commission, of which Judge Edwin D. Parker of New York and Houston, Tex., is the American member.

William R. Day, former associate justice of the Supreme Court, is umpire of the commission and Dr. Wilhelm Cieschbach, a lawyer of Hamburg, represents the German government.

Judge Parker, a native of Shelby county, Montana. He was born Sept. 7, 1868. After studying in public schools, he attended Central College at Fayette, Mo., and the University of Texas. After his graduation he joined the legal department of the M. K. and T. railroad. Later he joined the law firm with which he is still connected—Baker, Bates, Barker and Garwood of Houston. He served during the world war in connection with the organization of the War Industries Board as a "dollar a year man."

After the armistice he was a member of the United States Liquidation Commission. He was awarded the American Distinguished Service Medal and the French Legion of Honor for his work during the war.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

March 30, 1883.—Janitor Nelson has sunk the well in the basement of the Court house to 50 feet and has reached water.—Janesville cotton factory stockholders witnessed a test last night of the electric incandescent light being tried as an experiment there. The electric worked well until nine o'clock when it went out for the remainder of the evening.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

March 30, 1893.—Work on the new organ in St. Mary's church has been completed and it is one of which the parishioners may feel justly proud.—Repairs are being made on the St. Paul passenger depot. It is being shingled, the ticket office enlarged, and new seats and city water put in the waiting room.—The Northwestern road is to put on a new train from Chicago to run through here.

March 30, 1903.—William Rager of this city, for personal reasons, has withdrawn his name as candidate for justice of the supreme court to succeed Judge Barden.—Revinist, Biederwolf, in his talks in various gathering-places, is attracting a great deal of attention and is finding many converts. He talked to men at the Congregational church yesterday afternoon.

TEN YEARS AGO

March 30, 1913.—An enthusiastic mass meeting was held at the city hall last night, attended by hundreds. It was unanimously agreed to attempt to get the state fair to this city, should the state be shifted from the present site to a booster committee, to include every man and woman in the city, will be formed to carry out the plans. It is to increase interest in civic affairs as well.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

THE HEALTH VALUE OF ASEPTIC TECHNIC.

One great drawback about trying to teach health thru a newspaper is that the average reader is not a doctor. He is not a trained nurse, either in disgust or because they begin to apprehend they know about all the teacher pretends he knows, and they pupils joining the class day by day.

Let us explain to today's newspaper pupils that aseptic means germ free, and aseptic technic is the method which the surgeon and his assistants use to prevent infection of wounds and the modern physician and his assistants use to prevent the spread of communicable disease. One of the vitally important differences between even the dependable kind of practical nurse who commands the endorsement of the physicians of her community, and the trained nurse, is the latter's aseptic technic, which makes the trained nurse an indispensable factor in so many cases where, were it not for the grave consequences of not keeping away from food—nowadays many of us have moments of unease by reason of such intelligence. If not weeks of disease by reason of the flies—may, without becoming at all acquainted with a personal aseptic technic which affords real security against disease infection with disease.

Remember that this aseptic technic means cleanliness as regards invisible "dirt," microbes, not the mere removal or avoidance of visible "dirt" which is often enough quite harmless. As I have suggested on other occasions, some of our cleanest people (in the visible sense) are the dirtiest (in a sanitary sense). I hope that is quite clear, for it means much in reference to aseptic conscience I am striving to arouse.

If the use of antiseptics in the mouth or throat or nose conferred protection against infection from germ diseases, there would be no need to bother about personal asepsis. If the sifting of the house or sickroom with any kind of vapor, smoke, gas or fumigant really prevented the spread of infectious diseases we

SYNOPSIS.

Sheridan, a young lawyer from New York with a bad lung, has gone to Arizona seeking health. His first stop is the Chico Mesa ranch in Red Jackson. They discover Hollister, a notorious cattle thief, branding a calf, and drive him off, thereby securing his bitter enemy, Sheridan. He has plans for a large irrigation project and with a broken camp at the lake which is to be the water supply. They see on above them at the precipitous edge of Monte del Muerte the figure of a girl. Around this "Ghost Mountain" tales, Sheridan becomes convinced that the figure is not a ghost but a flesh and blood girl.

Metz was far from the Federal authorities. The local officials were elected from the old regime. Metz would vote "wet" and "no license" as long as the statutes were unrevoked. The sale of dubious liquor was winked at. If it was served from gingerale bottles it was more by way of a joke than by necessity. There were a half a dozen so-called distillers of "forty-rod," "lightning" and "squirrel" whiskey. None of it was good, but that manufactured by Yassquez was a holding on the edge of the town, where he bred dogs and children, with his predilections slightly in favor of the first, more free, more deadly than the rest.

Metz was half a mile or more from the depot. It struggled along the banks of the creek and, when the railroad spur came out through Ploche Pass, it had to ignore the demands of citizens to come right into town by reason of quickness. One train a day ran up from Ploche, rested a while and waited back again. This was due at five o'clock and to it, on the return trip, would be attached the cars into which Sheridan and his men loaded the sweating, lagging, bearded cattle.

It was done at last and Jackson went off to Metz with another cowboy to make some purchases. Sheridan thought it likely that they would bring back "something on the hip" besides their guns but he was not worried about their getting drunk. Jackson, the Texan, was the type who, to use his own phrase, "worked like hell between paydays and raised hell while the check lasted." Neither of them was sure, had more than a dollar or two with them, and they had not drawn any.

He rode as far as the depot with them to see the agent about his way-bills, bringing his mare alongside the platform, as high as the side of the street as it was by the track, reached at either end by a ramp. The agent roused himself at his call from

Representative Kahn of California was to climb a ladder to a big window in the third set and try and his way to freedom. Then, about to escape, he was to be shot by some one on the outside, which he was to fall back from under, exclaiming: "Heavens, I'm, or something like that before being his last."

"On this occasion the revolver of the man behind the scenes who was to fire a blank shot didn't work and the man flying at the bars could not possibly fall back, exclaiming that he shot. But he was a reconnoiterer, and so he fell from the ladder to the right place, anyhow, he did so he yelled:

"Good heavens, swallowed the filer."

"A young man venturing through a small town, that of which was Norwegian, hit two pedestrians with his horse and went to the justice to give him up."

"I probably know two Norwegians," said the man, "but nothing 'bout dat," said the judge. "You must go to the county seat you pay do bounty."

"HERE I AM!" CRIES NICKY NOME, "CUT ME OUT AND TAKE ME HOME!"

"I've had lady and man and baby paper dolls, and I do wish I had some of a new kind called 'Nicky Nome'." Something no one ever had before.

So Understanding Scissors and Paint Box had been thinking. They thought back to the time when they weren't scissors or paint at all, but minerals and colored earths lying deep, deep in the ground. Did you know that, paints come out of the ground? Well, they do. And suddenly Understanding Scissors cried: "I've remembered the gnomes—the little underground fairy men! We'll make a paper gnome and call him Nicky Nome!"

So they did and here he is. He'll last longer if you paste him on heavy white paper before you color and cut him. Gnomes really haven't wings, but the Paint Box put him a pair which you may paste on his back.

Then Friendly Paste Pot made up his mind he wanted to have a finger in Tuesday's game and he made betty so terribly curious when he told her how Bennies could be made out of pennies that she determined to make some very soon. So have Mother buy you a half dozen pennies and don't cut them until after Tuesday so you can have a big bunny family just as Betty's going to do.

BEAUTY CHATS by Edna Forbes Kent

A GOLD CURE AM PACK

Complexions that are very dry or very red and wrinkled, or flared from neglect or ill-advised treatments will benefit enormously from a gold cream pack. This is not a difficult treatment but it is a tedious one, to be given strictly in the privacy of one's room with no possibility of an unsympathetic family coming in to leer.

The first essential is a really nourishing cold cream, one that contains almost oil or olive oil for the skin to absorb. I have a formula for an excellent one if you wish to use it. Ordinary creams at 50 cents a jar or so are of no use except as cleansers.

First wash the face with hot water and a mild soap such as castile, scrubbing the skin with a fairly stiff complexion brush. This is to stimulate the blood and to open and cleanse the pores. Rinse with hot water, holding a soft face cloth over the skin so that it is red and glowing.

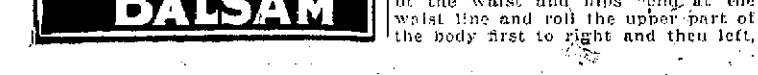

Dry quickly, and before the skin cools, rub in a generous amount of cold cream. Massage well so the skin has a chance to absorb these nourishing oils. Then rub on more cold cream so the skin has quite a thick coating.

Now comes the difficult part, for the face must either be covered with a linen mask such as beauty shops sell, or it must be bound with long strips of old linen or muslin. These must go across the forehead, around under the chin, holding those lax muscles in place, over the chin and across the cheeks, which is more difficult, and even over the nose. You can see how hard it would be to strap up the sagging muscles properly if this treatment is for old age and wrinkles as well as for a dry skin. I should advise you if you intend to go in for this to purchase the regular type of face mask. A great nuisance, but a good one for a bad skin.

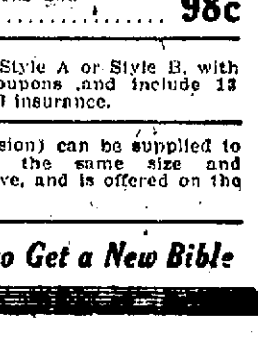

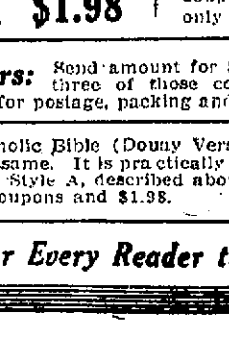

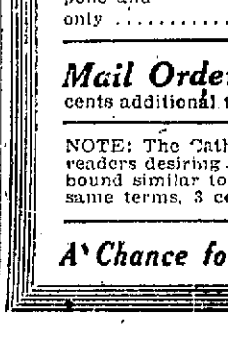

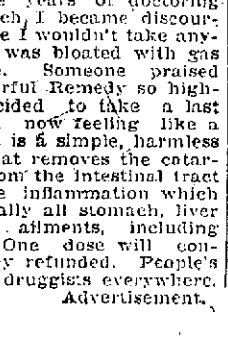

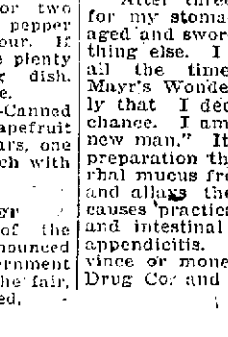

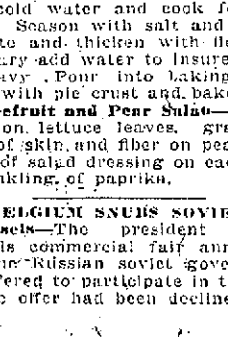

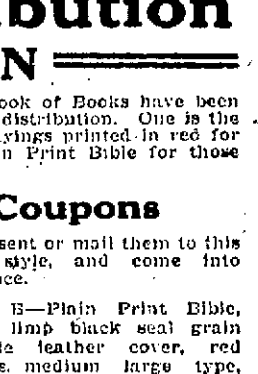

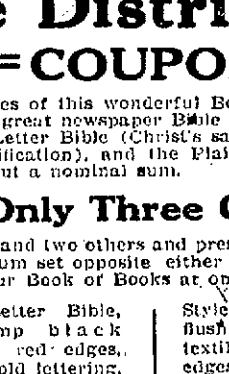

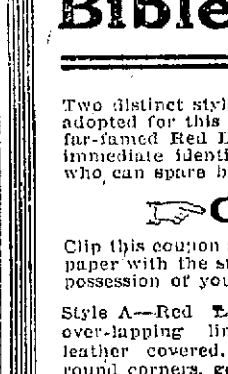

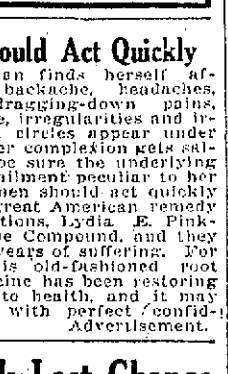

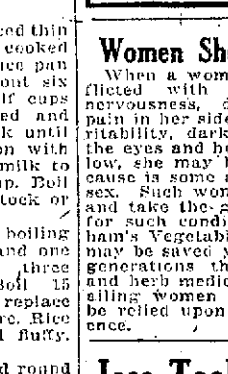

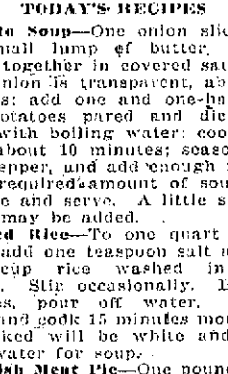

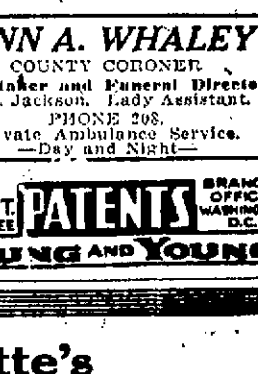

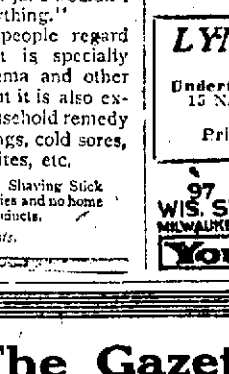

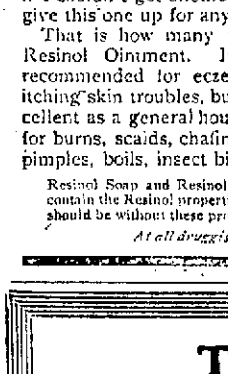

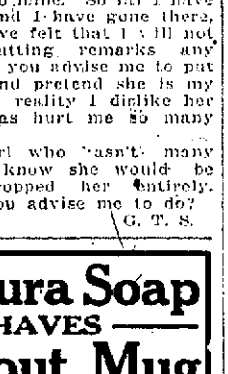

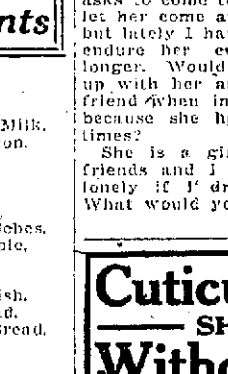

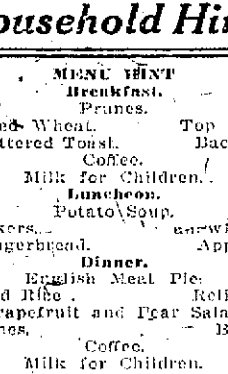

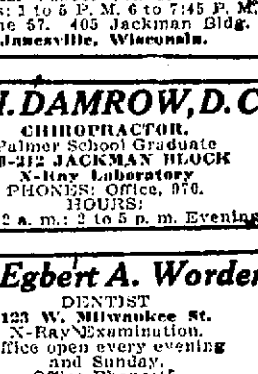

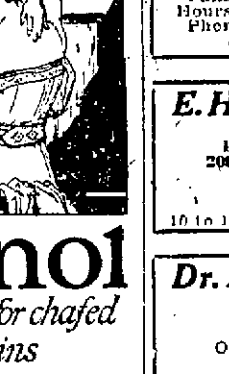

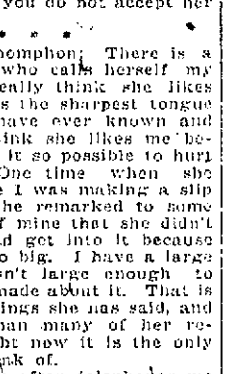

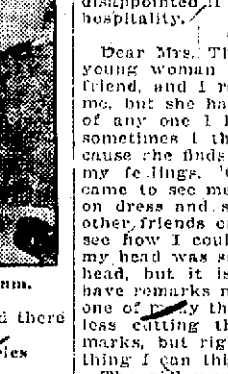

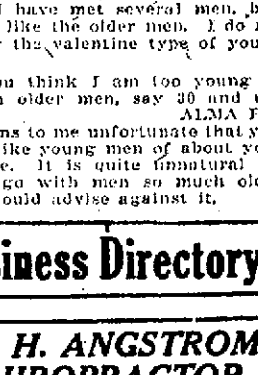

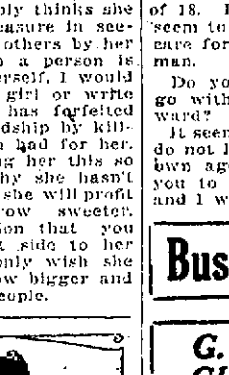

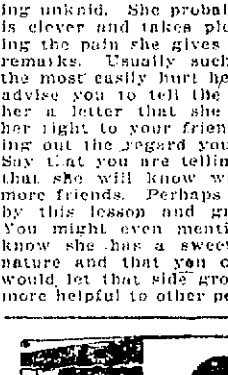

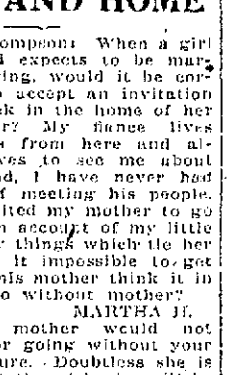

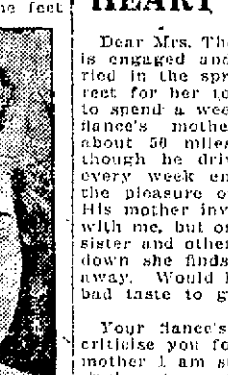

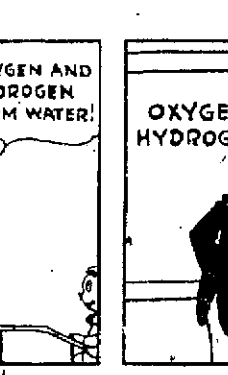

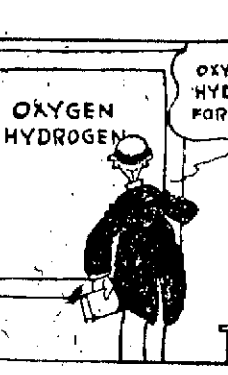

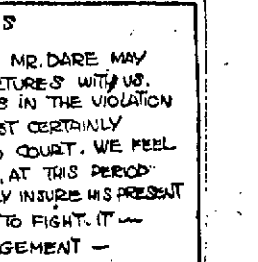

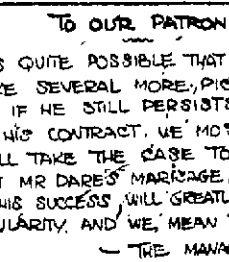

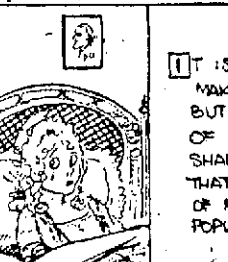

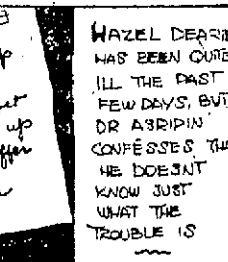

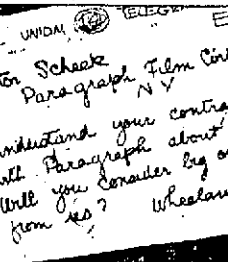

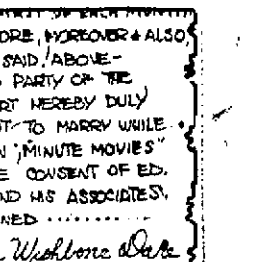

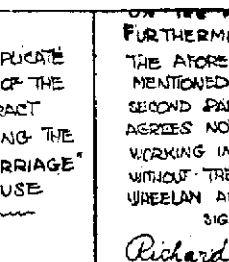

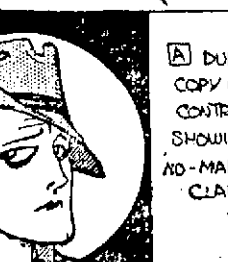

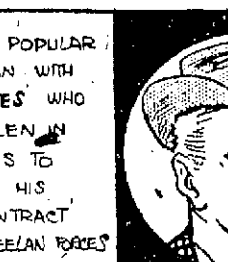

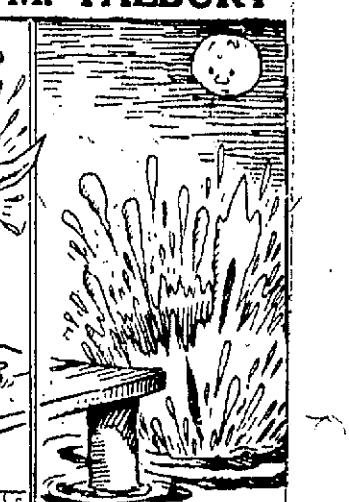

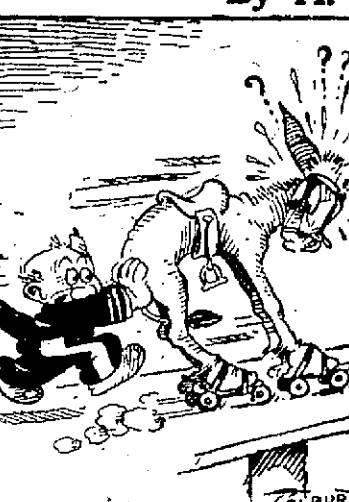

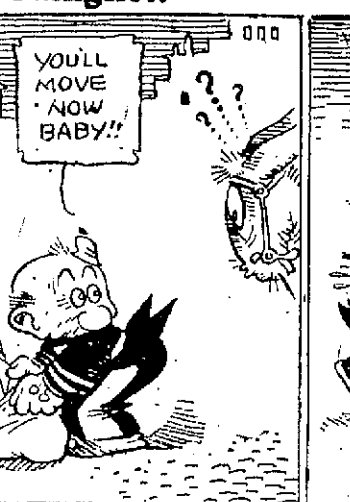

Yamp Eyes—A girl of 20 years five feet two inches is very little underweight at 112 pounds. Everything else about your condition shows that you are in need of advice from a good doctor. The reading would not make the eyes look sunken. What you need is a good building up by someone who knows what is causing all your disturbances. No healthy grown person needs more than eight hours of sleep and to take 10 and 12 means a loss of strength. The only exception to this would be very old people.

Bleed—To reduce this extra size of the waist and hips "end at the waist line and roll the upper part of the body first to right and then left.

Getting Rid of a Stubborn Cough Is Child's Play Now

Make the Medicine Yourself at Home. It's Cheap—But You Can't Beat It.

If you want to take care of that hard, hacking cough and do it in a few hours, better get one ounce of Paracetamol (double strength) and mix a half pint of water.

You can do this in two minutes by adding a little sugar and enough water to fill a half pint bottle.

You'll travel the world over before you get a medicine that will act so surely and quickly on the mucous membrane of the nose and throat. It halts the inflammation, the tickling sensation stops with the first spoonful, the heavy breathing goes and clean membrane, free from irritation and mucus, follows.

For Croup, conditions such as mucus droppings, clogged nostrils and watery eyes, it won't disappoint—ask for Paracetamol (double strength). Speak plainly so that the druggist will know exactly what you want.

Getting Rid of a Stubborn Cough Is Child's Play Now

Make the Medicine Yourself at Home. It's Cheap—But You Can't Beat It.

If you want to take care of that hard, hacking cough and do it in a few hours, better get one ounce of Paracetamol (double strength) and mix a half pint of water.

You can do this in two minutes by adding a little sugar and enough water to fill a half pint bottle.

You'll travel the world over before you get a medicine that will act so surely and quickly on the mucous membrane of the nose and throat. It halts the inflammation, the tickling sensation stops with the first spoonful, the heavy breathing goes and clean membrane, free from irritation and mucus, follows.

For Croup, conditions such as mucus droppings, clogged nostrils and watery eyes, it won't disappoint—ask for Paracetamol (double strength). Speak plainly so that the druggist will know exactly what you want.

Valley League to Have Track Coming Season

Track athletics are next in order for the schools in the Rock River Valley Athletic league. With basketball out of the way, the title in the hands of Milton Union high, a meeting will be called the first part of April to take up plans for track and field. The meeting probably will be held at Edgerton. It will be called by Fred J. Holt, of that city, chairman of the circuit. Baseball, while permitted in the rules of the league, probably will not be played. It is not considered this year as attractive for high schools as track.

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR

TRAPSHOOTING in the United States now is controlled by the Amateur Trapshooters' association. Heretofore, the manufacturers of shotguns and shells ran the game. As a result, trapshooting did not advance to the stage to which it should. It was too much of a commercialized proposition. The chance to control in the hands of the shooters themselves should work for an enlargement of the sport. One of the cities that will benefit will be Janesville. Before the summer comes on, there is every expectation that the Bower city will see a club in the field.

THERE seems to be a new idea in game legislation in the state assembly. According to the Janesville men who attended the hearing on the sealing bill, the fish and game committee has a plan to revise the statutes to make them uniform and to increase the multiplicity of variety of laws. Their purpose, it appears, is to simplify things and do away with the confusion of a raft of new bills every session.

THE HOME TALENT idea is spreading. According to the Janesville men who attended the hearing on the sealing bill, the fish and game committee has a plan to revise the statutes to make them uniform and to increase the multiplicity of variety of laws. Their purpose, it appears, is to simplify things and do away with the confusion of a raft of new bills every session.

A TIP which the writer had from a good source was confirmed Thursday by a report from Madison with reference to Jollie Williams and his plans after he leaves Wisconsin. The eighth grade athletic star from Edgerton believes that he will be far better off having charge of athletics at a small college than playing pro football with the Detroit Tigers or any other organization. If he makes good, at coaching, his job would be more permanent than the "pro" game. He will probably go with Millikan at $4,000 a year.

APRIL 15 has been set as the opening date for the Janesville city bowling tournament. The committee has set 30 teams as the goal. The fee of $1 a man is small. The purpose of the meet is to boost the home state tournament here next winter, should cause every man of the city to rally to the cause. There may easily be four or five league teams in the city. The tournament will be a booster team. The average-handicap basis will give every man an equal chance. Let's give our Janesville a real boost and put 100 teams in the meet.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Cambridge Team Signs up for Southern Loop

Cambridge, through its representative O. H. Perry, has signed up in the Southern Wisconsin Home Talent Baseball league. The articles of organization were received back here Friday with his John Hancock attached.

"Everything is O. K. here," writes Mr. Perry. "The outlook is good." With Cambridge in, three of the six clubs in the circuit, now have signed. The others were Stoughton and Port Atkinson. The Janesville Black Cats, Edgerton American Legion and Deerfield are expected to sign up within the next week. Cambridge also sent along its $100 guarantee note.

The Milton American Legion, composed jointly of Milton and Milton Junior League members, may file application for the circuit. George H. Crandall, coach of the Milton college athletic teams, was here Thursday inquiring whether it would be possible to join the circuit.

Crandall has been appointed athletic officer of the Milton post. It is the plan of the legion there to go in strong for athletics this summer and continue into basketball next spring.

Last I-C Games Will be Rolled on Friday Night

GAMES FRIDAY.
(Final of Season)

Tractons vs. Post Office 6-7

Final games of the Industrial Commercial bowling league will be rolled Friday night. While the Woodens have grabbed the pennant, there is still some interest remaining in the last three games.

The Electric company, it is heard, has a chance to go into a tie for third by taking three from the Post Office.

Red Sox Want $15,000, Claim from the Tygers

Boston.—The Boston American league club will file a claim for $15,000 against the Detroit club for the failure of Detroit to fulfill its contract, according to advices from Springfield, Ark. Holling was traded to the Red Sox with Howard Ehmke and Babe Herman in exchange for Derrill Pratt and Rip Collins. Holling has informed the Red Sox that he prefers to stay in California and play baseball.

According to statements made to the Janesville men by State Senator Newcomb Spoor of Berlin it is the plan of the fish and game committee to put through a revision of the state fish and game laws.

"If you should happen to be going along in your car in the country somewhere," Senator Spoor told the Janesville men, "and came to a small pond and wanted to fish, you might take out your rod and line. After you fished a while a game warden may come along and nab you for breaking a sectional law you did not know about. Why shouldn't it be universal in Wisconsin that a man may fish in any water? That's my idea."

Senator Spoor also conversed with the Bower city men with regard to the present limitations on catches of fish. He told them he does not feel in accord with the present arrangement whereby a fish catch is determined by length or by weight. He would rather disregard weight and length, but instead place a special limit on the number of fish that may be caught. In other words, a man might catch his fish of any size and weight. The senator says many of the fish now thrown back because they are under size eventually die.

Amendment to the Gary bill opening carp fishing in Lake Koshkonong and Rock river was not submitted by Senator A. E. Garey, Edgerton, at the opening of the assembly. This was reported back here by Janesville men who attended the hearing.

Carp had planned to attach a rider to his bill placing the work of seining in the hands of American legion, charitable organizations of the state conservation commission. The Janesville chapter of the Bank Walton league of America, fishermen of Edgerton and others of southern Wisconsin protested. Garey appeared before the committee but left the bill in its original form.

The plan for a universal opening of hook and line fishing, the first day of the season being May 15, probably will go through the legislature, the Janesville men learned. The season in Rock county now opens earlier than that of the river-fishers because of the fishermen who get out before the season opens in other parts of the state, thus making fishing a poorer proposition each year. The only fish on which a season would be later than May 15, would be black bass, the season of which would remain at June 15.

Janesville men who attended the hearing were L. P. Wortendyke, chairman Clarence Sutherland, E. H. Winter, Dr. E. H. Darnow, Harry Sheldon and Frank Frame. Wortendyke and Sutherland spoke for Janesville.

OLD DAYS BEHIND SCENES REVIVED AS "LIGHTNIN'" PLAYS

It has been a long, long time since a celebrity of the calibre of Thomas Jefferson has been at the Bower city entirely apart from that air of blustering and dressing in getting the sets up and the players ready. It was an air that changed the dull den rooms and old corridors and for one night transformed them, bringing back memories of the old days when all the world's most famous actors and actresses played at that theater.

Many have been the Uncle Toms, the Simon Legers, and the Joshua Whitcombos who have made up in the room where Thomas Jefferson donned his simple make-up for "Lightnin'" Bill Jones, Thursday night. Jefferson himself, and probably best in the room before, and although there is no definite record, his father, too, the world-famous Joseph Jefferson, had probably transformed himself into a well-dressed and dignified, shiffling Rip Van Winkle in that very room.

"Lightnin'" Jones," said Thomas Jefferson shortly before the Janesville performance of the play that broke the world's record, was only Rip Van Winkle brought up to date. He is the same old, beloved vagabond, shiffler, careless, but with the best of hearts, and probably best in the room on the stage or on the screen but in real life, how he is despised!

Jefferson was then made up for the part, which was a little make-up was required. A little rouge on the face was necessary to counteract the glare of the footlights. His own hair had been combed away, with "locks" being down over his ears. His khaki trousers, coat, and yellowish shirt were real enough and looked as if they had had much wear before they were put on. He was almost a perfect impersonation of "Lightnin'." In ordinary life, Jefferson would doubtless strike one on first glance because of his resemblance to the late Frank Bacon, and with his make-up and costume on, he was almost his double in mannerisms as well as appearance. He is 66 years of age.

"I was out in California when I had the high fever," said Mr. Jefferson, when asked how he happened to be playing the part. "I received a letter from my brother in New York, telling me that he had decided to play the part. I wanted to see to it that I looked like him. I answered and asked why he didn't spend 25 cents and get a photograph of me. I hated to leave California, but I had to go. I was so fond of it in the ten years I had lived there. I finally started east, however, and stopped in Kansas City to see Bacon play the show. It was then that I decided the character was only a modern Rip Van Winkle, and I determined I would play the part if I could. It was then 'mid-summer (1922) and I started playing the part in Akron. I had a very successful run. Our opening engagement was in Detroit and we have played mainly the middle west since that, as there were no other companies playing the part east and the south. We have had a most successful run, and in spite of weather conditions and other things which would naturally tend to lower the attendance, have been giving matinees twice a week and have been playing to packed houses every single night, including Sunday," which started Jefferson to philosophizing a little.

"You know," he said, "once you have something the public really wants, you can't keep them away. Here it is, one of the weeks that we had a ripper to expect poor business because it is Holy week, and we have been forced to give two matinees and play to houses every night as filled as a little."

Jefferson remembers well playing the famous part of "Rip Van Winkle" here 25 years ago.

The play "Rip Van Winkle" is much older than most people realize. Many residents remember seeing Joseph Jefferson play the part, but he did not originate it. The part was first played by an ancestor of Thomas Jefferson's in 1777 in London with David Garrick. Since then, every member of the Jefferson family, on the Jefferson—The pruning demonstration put on by the Oakland Spray association, Thursday, March 29, was well attended. It was conducted on the farm of Fred Leonard and son, town of Oakland, and was assisted by Conrad Kuehner. This orchard has been selected as a demonstration orchard by the association. The work done at the demonstration was grafting and pruning. The farmers brought their tools with them and worked over the trees. The Oakland Spray association is planning to increase the orchard by 700 or 800 fruit trees, and will put on another demonstration in the same orchard in the autumn. A beautiful dinner was served to about 25 Jefferson county farmers.

present $10 license fee to be continued in effect, with a two per cent higher privilege tax, half of which is to be distributed back to local communities in place of the present personal property tax, and a two cent gasoline tax. This bill would raise $11,000,000.

Under the compromise bill of the county boards and house of municipalities, the following license fees, based on weight, is proposed: 1000 pounds, $8 fee; 1000 to 2000, $10; 2000 to 2400, $12; 2400 to 2800, $14; 2800 to 3200, $16; 3200 to 3600, $18; 3600 to 4000, $20; 4000 to 4400, $22; 4400 to 4800, $24.

All over 4800 are taxed $24 fee, plus 50 cents for each additional 100 pounds.

15 Per Cent to Counties.

These fees would be distributed 85 per cent to the state and 15 per cent to counties. In proportion to the amount the local collections bear to the whole for the state.

Motor trucks are taxed on the following basis: Up to 1000 pounds, $8; 1000 to 2100, $20; 2100 to 2500, $25; 2500 pounds and over, $25 plus $5 for every 500 pounds or proportion thereof.

Of the truck fee, 75 per cent would go to the cities in which they are collected and 25 per cent to counties.

Motor bus fees are to be twice the truck fees.

The two per cent valuation tax, which would raise nearly $3,000,000 annually, would be distributed, two per cent to the towns, villages and cities, and 50 per cent to the counties, in the proportion that the privilege tax in the localities bears to the whole. This privilege tax would be assessed on the basis of 99 per cent each year for five years.

Local Privilege Tax.

The privilege tax would be in lieu of the personal property tax on cars, and would return to the localities approximately the same amount of revenue as now received for the privilege tax. In addition, the personal property offset is removed, and all cars taxed, where many now escape assessment.

The gasoline tax would raise $3,000,000 85 per cent of which would be retained by the state and 15 per cent would go to the counties.

The Caldwell bill would have a net $10 license fee on automobiles with a graduated fee on trucks, ranging from $10 on trucks of 1800 pounds or under, to $25 on trucks of 5000 pounds with a $5 additional fee for each additional 500 pounds. A fee double the charge on trucks would be charged for motor busses.

2 Per Cent Valuation Tax.

There would be a two per cent valuation tax assessed in the same manner as under the county boards plan, distributed 50 per cent to the local unit of government and 50 per cent to the state.

The two cent gasoline tax would have no provision for refund on gasoline not used in motor vehicles. Assemblyman Caldwell explains, because of the raised general property tax, taxpayers will receive from the shift in the tax burden.

These two plans of taxation are in addition to the joint highway committee program, which is endorsed by Governor Blaine. A committee plan is admittedly open, serious attack that threatens its success, and the new proposals are brought forward to be held in reserve if unfavorable action is taken on the first bills.
